Long Plans to Quiz IRS About Story

By JOHN CHADWICK
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward V. Long says he intends to quiz the Internal Revenue Service about how Life magazine learned of fees he shared with a St. Louis lawyer.

The Missouri Democrat, in an interview, indicated he believes the IRS leaked the information to Life. He termed "rather ironic" Life's report on the fee-sharing in 1963 and 1964 "right after an audit of his tax returns for those years" by the IRS.

Long said Tuesday a forthcoming Senate inquiry he will direct into alleged harassment by government agencies will include a probe of how word was leaked of his sharing legal fees with lawyer Morris A. Shenker.

Shenker, a longtime friend of Long's, has been chief counsel for James R. Hoffa in the imprisoned Teamsters Union president's appeal from a 1964 jury tampering conviction.

Life, in its current issue, contends Long misused a Senate Judiciary subcommittee investigation of wiretapping and other invasions of privacy by federal agencies in an attempt to get Hoffa's conviction reversed.

York, the Security Council was called into urgent session today to consider the war threat in the Middle East. Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban left Jerusalem by plane for Washington and New York, and Foreign Ministry officials in Jerusalem said he would probably take part in the opening stages of the council debate.

Some diplomats at the United Nations believed the Soviet Union might try to block council action. Canada, who with Denmark asked for the meeting, said it was suggesting expansion of the U.N. Truce Supervisory Organization in Jerusalem so it could replace the U.N. Middle East force on the Egyptian-Israeli border.

War fever ran high in Cairo. Martial music and marching songs blared over loudspeakers in public squares as Thant conferred with aides in his Nile-side hotel in preparation for talks with Nasser and Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad.

Al Ahram described Thant's mission as "very critical" but said indications pointed to a very slim chance of success.

Nasser was reported ready to listen to Thant's views but standing firm on withdrawal of the U.N. Middle East force and his ban on Israeli shipping in the Gulf of Aqaba.

Mrs. WR Is Honored Nationally

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The National Conference of Christians and Jews presented Gov. and Mrs. Winthrop Rockefeller its National Brotherhood and Humanitarian Award Tuesday night at Barton Coliseum.

The governor and his wife are the first husband and wife to share the award.

"Jeanette and I are touched by this tribute," Rockefeller said. "If the recognition is deserved at all, I think it is appropriate that it is received as a team."

Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., presented the Rockefeller to the crowd of about 1,000. Rockefeller dealt with the brotherhood theme during his 20-minute speech. He said he felt lack of motivation and ambition are symptoms of poverty, not the causes.

"When our generosity fails to eliminate the causes of poverty we resort to condemning the symptoms of its victims," Rockefeller said.

John Charles Daly, moderator of the CBS television show, "What's My Line," gave the principle address.

U.S. headquarters said an unusual number of reconnaissance missions were flown over North Vietnam during the truce period but "no significant sightings were reported."

A spokesman said this meant that Communist supplies were moving south as usual on North Vietnam's roads.

During previous holiday truces of two to four days, the U.S. Command charged the North Vietnamese with marked increases in the volume of war supplies they moved southward. But the U.S. spokesman said the 24-hour letup in the bombing "did not provide the time frame in which to move large quantities of material."

The U.S. and South Vietnamese commands charged the Communist forces with widespread violations of the truce in South Vietnam.

The U.S. Command reported 73 "incidents" during the ceasefire period with 12 Americans killed and 57 wounded. The South Vietnamese Command reported an additional 19 incidents with four civilians and soldiers killed and 60 civilians and soldiers wounded, an overall total of 92 incidents resulting in 16 allied dead and 117 wounded.

Election in Pulaski Co. to Be Called

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A special election will be called in November to name a Pulaski County judge, Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said Tuesday.

Rockefeller made the announcement after meeting with members of the Pulaski County Election Commission which is expected to challenge the governor's authority to call an election.

"I feel it is my duty to call an election at the earliest possible date and set the time so that there would be an ample period for a court test of the entire matter," Rockefeller said.

Rockefeller said that there was a precedent for the action and his authority on the matter should be decided in the courts.

The precedent was in 1964 when former Gov. Orval E. Faubus called a special election to fill a vacancy in the office of circuit clerk in Clark County.

Arch Campbell has been serving as Pulaski County judge since judge-elect Tom Gulley drowned before he could take office.

"Pearce accompanied by his son arrived at Liberty Airport close to Havana last Sunday at noon piloting a Cessna plane, M-8546 J."

The broadcast commented that the United States had asked the Cuban authorities to aid in searching for Pearce.

Tuesday in Houston, Pearce's former wife, now Sandra Mitchell, said Pearce picked up Richard Jr. last Friday.

He told me they were going on vacation. They were to be back in a week," Mrs. Mitchell said. "He didn't say where they might be appropriate to go to another country according to his request, were going or anything."

"I know nothing about their disappearance. I only know I want my child back," Mrs. Mitchell said.

Pearce is the son of Walter N. Pearce, a retired executive of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare in Atlanta. The major's mother lives in Birmingham.

Pearce's father, informed of the bulletin, said, "At least he's alive." Asked if he had any comment on his son going to Cuba he replied, "No, only that I'm glad he's alive."

A brother, Dr. Walter Pearce, also of Birmingham, said earlier in the week the possibility of his brother defecting to Cuba was absurd: "I absolutely refuse to believe it."

Firm Will Comply With Order

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Terry Noah, President of Woodlawn Memorial Gardens, said Tuesday the firm would comply immediately with a ruling by the state Securities Commission.

The Commission ruled Tuesday the cemetery's perpetual care trust fund with the Arkansas Loan and Thrift Corp. is illegal.

Noah said the money would be removed from the loan company this morning.

Acting Securities Commissioner Nathan Schoenfeld said the Arkansas Loan and Thrift Corp. was not chartered as an industrial loan company, mortgage loan company or savings and loan association. Schoenfeld said the cemetery firm must invest the money with a firm that is qualified under the law.

The trust fund amounts to $50,000 with accrued interest.

Nothing to Do With Decision

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A woman who named her ninth child after a judge has been given a suspended sentence by the judge.

"You must understand this has nothing to do with my decision," chuckled U.S. Dist. Judge Bailey Brown on Monday.

Laura Willis Agnew was indicted March 9 with her twin sister on a charge of cashing a government check mistakenly delivered to her home.

Mrs. Agnew's ninth child, Bailey Brown Agnew, was born nine days after the indictment.

Both she and her sister, Clara Ellis, pleaded guilty and received suspended sentences.

Why Does George Check Outstanding Claims Daily?

He doesn't have to. Most agents don't. Many agents simply mail loss reports to the Company and forget them. They think by some magic formula all will turn out well. George knows it doesn't work that way. He knows that in spite of good intentions of the Company to pay promptly, sometimes things can go wrong. A report might be lost in the mail, a doctor's bill isn't mailed, needed estimates aren't furnished by the claimant, the insured misses an appointment with the adjuster, George figures he is paid to take care of all the details, and to follow through on every claim. So he does, every day.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Why can't American film makers create the kind of film that wins awards for the directors of Europe?

It's the system, declares Roger Corman, aging — he's 39 now — boy wonder of the exploitation movie. He has managed to stretch the system to his needs. But he admits that the kind of artistic film of Fellini, Antonioni, Bergman, etc., is virtually impossible under the economics of Hollywood.

"Take a director like Fellini," said Corman. "With production costs being low in Italy, he can make a feature for $500,000. In addition, the Italian government may give him a subsidy of $300,000, so the picture costs only $200,000 in all."

"With that kind of an investment, Fellini can afford to take chances and try far-out things. He knows that the film is virtually assured of paying off."

It's an entirely different deal in Hollywood, said Corman, adding: "You can't afford to experiment — unless you have a subject which in itself is sensational enough to allow it."

The producer-director feels he has such a film now. It's called "The Trip," and it's no FitzPatrick Travelogue. The story concerns what happens to a young man, played by Peter Fonda, under the influence of LSD.

"I'm in the midst of cutting it now, and it's the toughest job I ever had," said Corman. "Seventy-five per cent of the picture concerns what Peter experiences, and it's pretty wild stuff. None of it makes any sense until I put it together. And maybe it won't then."

American - International Pictures appears willing to indulge between $500,00 and $600,00 on "The Trip," having fared well with Corman before. He has poured forth a steady stream of films which seem like potboilers to some critics. Yet a few high-brow critics and many Europeans find his work stimulating and new.

He started as a film maker at 28 when he filmed "Monster from the Ocean Floor" for all of $18,00. The film grossed $150,000 and brought Corman $60,000. He was off and running.

It has been estimated that 88.9 per cent of children under age five in the United States have never been to a dentist.

TEN LASHES WITH MY TYPEWRITER RIBBON, AGAIN

Dear Helen: An answer to "Tracy" whose husband threw a fit because the vending machine gave him eight cents worth of stamps for a dime:

The Post Office Department frequently receives criticisms for the manner in which these stamps are sold, whereas, actually, the vending machines are privately owned, maintained and stocked by a vending company not associated in any way with the U.S. Government. This company buys the stamps, fills the machines and profits from the convenience in the same manner as cigarette machines, gum machines, etc.

Stamp vending machines situated at U.S. Post Offices offer stamps at face value. — A POST OFFICE OFFICIAL

Dear P. O. Official: You'll be happy to know that the much-maligned post office department has thousands of unknown friends . . . and all of them chided me for not setting Tracy's husband straight.

Ten lashes with my typewriter ribbon duly administered. — H.

Dear Helen: I'm sure you know stamp vending machines in grocery stores aren't government-owned, but don't you agree a 20 per cent mark-up is pretty steep on something as basic as stamps? Every time I'm forced by circumstances to put a dime into one of those machines I feel I'm paying six cents for a nickel, and I resent it. I usually hold my letter until I can get to the post office.

Here's an idea: why doesn't the P. O. Department install stamp machines (at cost) in or near those sidewalk mailboxes? The mail man could service them in about ten minutes once a week, and the public would be grateful to get its money's worth. — ANOTHER INJUSTICE FIGHTER

Dear Fighter: You're troding on the toes of private enterprise, friend, and, besides, outdoor vending machines invite robbery. I'm afraid we're stuck with the six-cent nickel stamp, unless we can make it to the post office. — H

Dear Helen: Speaking of stamp machines, let me tell you the story of an honest man. Our post office vending machines give back eight cents worth of stamps and two pennies. Evidently the coin shut-off stuck and this man hit the jackpot, with pennies spewing out all over the floor. It was late at night, no one was present, so I understand he carefully scooped them up, found a used envelop in the wastepaper basket and stuffed the loot into our package-chute, with a note: "You'll never make any money this way."

When he came in next day to ask if we'd found his "letter,"

Dear Helen: This may jolt "Mother of a Son with Improved Marks" out of that three-month beating binge she and her husband have undertaken. Just imagine the boy has received more than 1,350 lashes. No report card is worth this! How can they give a nightly beating as casually as if emptying the garbage? — E.F.

Dear Helen: Someone ought to take the mother and father of the "Boy with Improved Marks" out in the garage every night and double the 15 smacks on them. Perhaps this might bring THEIR marks up. If neighbors haven't reported the inhuman treatment, I hope the boy goes to the Child Welfare and asks for a hearing. May God forgive their cruelty. I can't — U.F.

Don't miss "The Wrong Box" tonight - You'll be sorry if you do -

We received our special shipment of ladies hosiery this week for our Ladies Hosiery night next Tuesday and Wednesday, and feel sure that all the ladies who come next Tuesday and Wednesday to our Ladies Night show will be real happy with the hosiery we will give each lady.

Disney's latest picture is in town this week, Thursday thru Saturday you'll be able to see "Bullwhip Criffin." This is a real slapstick comedy that will have you rolling in the aisles — and grown ups might like it even better than the kids. Don't pass it up, at the Saenger.

Sunday—the wrong titled picture "Arrividerci Baby" — why they call it that, we don't know—we can't say it or spell it. But it is snappy, spicy fun. It means "Goodbye Baby"—for Tony Curtis is a slicker who marries on the sly for their money and leaves them.

At the Drive-in this week and we've got that swell Scarer, "The Nanny" with Bette Davis in another shocking role. With it the teenagers will get a bang out of "Wild on the Beach" — the new story about what goes on down on those Florida spring vacations!!!!

The Dixie drive in with it's new snack bar gets more popular each week with folks who like to come out early have dinner and enjoy a good movie!!!!

Who's the father of all corn? Why Popcorn of course!!! And that's real corn!!!!!!

And we can't understand why one of our young moviegoers was kept after school when he handed in a Blank sheet of paper when the teacher asked for an essay on the RESULT OF LAZINESS!!!!!!

Drysdale Responding in New Role

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer

Now all Don Drysdale has to do is change his uniform number from 53 to 32.

Handed the role of stopper for the Los Angeles Dodgers virtually by default when Sandy Koufax retired, Drysdale is responding to the challenge as if he were a left-hander with an arthritic elbow.

Drysdale hurled his second straight shutout and lowered his earned run average to a Koufax-like 1.43 Tuesday night with a 7-0 victory over the New York Mets.

It was the best pitched game in the National League where San Francisco shaded Philadelphia 5-4 in 11 innings, Houston battered Pittsburgh 8-3 and Atlanta thumped St. Louis 9-6. Cincinnati's game at Chicago was rained out.

In the American League, Baltimore blanked New York 1-0, Boston downed Detroit 5-2, Chicago whipped Minnesota 5-4, Cleveland defeated Washington 4-1 in 10 innings and California beat Kansas City 5-1.

The Dodgers scored four runs on one hit in the first inning with Met starter Chuck Estrada contributing four walks and a wild pitch to the rally which was climaxed by Al Ferrara's bases-loaded double.

After that it was all Drysdale. The big right-hander allowed just five hits and retired 12 straight Mets over one stretch. It was his 39th career shutout, leaving him one short of the Dodgers' club record held by Koufax.

"I can't do any more than pitch once every four days," Drysdale said, "the same as I did when Sandy was with us. He's retired and that's accepted. I can only do my best out there."

It's been a different spring for Drysdale this season. He had a tough time getting started last year and finished with a disappointing 13-16 record. He's 4-3 now with three straight victories.

"I feel as though I've been throwing as good as ever," Drysdale said. The shutout gave him a string of 23 consecutive scoreless innings and he's allowed just three earned runs in the last 42 innings he's pitched.

The Giants beat the Phillies when Jesus Alou opened the 11th with a triple and rode home on Ollie Brown's sacrifice fly.

Brown's fourth home run and two throwing errors by Rich Allen had helped the Giants build a 4-2 lead but Don Lock's two-run single in the eighth following a single by Allen and a double by Johnny Callison tied it.

Tony Taylor homered for Philadelphia.

Houston's Chuck Harrison drove in four runs with a pair of doubles and Larry Dierker won his fifth game as the Astros defeated Pittsburgh.

Dierker also had two hits and drove in a pair of runs with a double. He held the Pirates to six hits in the seven innings he worked.

The Astros bunched four hits and three walks for five runs off loser Billy O'Dell, 4-1, and Vern Law in the fifth inning with Harrison's second two-run double the key blow.

Clete Boyer stroked three straight hits, scoring one run and driving in two others for the Braves against the Cardinals.

Six singles — two of them swinging bunts by shortstop Marty Martinez and pitcher Jay Ritchie — helped Atlanta to a four-run fourth inning that opened up a 9-4 lead for the Braves.

Lou Brock slammed a two-run homer for the Cardinals and Gene Oliver connected with the bases empty for Atlanta.

Nicklaus Likes Tough Golf Course

by WILL GRIMSLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer

SPRINGFIELD, N. (AP) — "Some of these holes look like they might have been hauled over from Britain — I like it," Jack Nicklaus said today after being reintroduced to the long and tough Baltusrol golf course.

It was love at second sight for golf's 27-year-old strong boy and the layout where he will try to win his second National Open June 16-19.

"I've always liked this course — I think it's wonderful, but it is a real test of golf," Nicklaus added.

Big Jack was only 14 when lame-armed Ed Furgol won here in 1954, but he played Baltusrol on a taped television show four years ago. He doesn't remember much about it.

"Phil Rodgers and I lost our match in the first round, I wasn't around long," Jack explained.

The 210-pound Golden Bear from Columbus, Ohio, took an exploratory tour of the 7,022-yard, par 70 course Tuesday in order to write a critique for a sports magazine.

Although he's been in the throes of a slump this spring, he appeared very loose and confident. He hit the ball like the Nicklaus who has won three Masters, setting the Augusta record in 1965.

"There's nothing wrong with my game that two hours' sleep and a new putting stroke wouldn't cure," Nicklaus said facetiously. "Seriously, I think my game is coming around okay."

Jack has won only one tournament title this year — the non-sanctioned Crosby. He failed to make the cut in the Masters, and his only other serious run at a victory was at New Orleans where he finished a stroke back of Canadian George Knudson. He is well down in the money list, headed by his old rival, Arnold Palmer.

Some of those who passed local qualifying tests Tuesday for Open sectional play were pros Jerry Pittman and Tom Nienporte of Locust Valley, N.Y.; Mike Fetchik of Glen Head, N.Y.; Emery Thomas of Forest Hill, N.J.; Harold (Catfish) Kneese of Greensboro, N.C.; and Paul Bondeson of Atlanta and amateur Bunky Henry of Atlanta.

In three days of local qualifying — it ends at San Francisco today — 476 amateurs and pros were weeded out to join 61 others, who were exempt from local competition, in sectional play June 5-6.

The sectionals will send 123, along with 27 who were exempt from all qualifying, to the Open.

SOLUNAR TABLES

By JOHN ALDEN KNIGHT

The schedule of Solunar Periods, as printed below has been taken from John Alden Knight's SOLUNAR TABLES. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times, if you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.

The Major Periods are shown in boldface type. These begin at the times shown and last for an hour and a half or two hours thereafter. The Minor Periods, shown in regular type, are of somewhat shorter duration.

Use Central Standard time.

Rocky Backs Argument With Homer

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer

Last week Rocky Colavito grimly listed half a dozen arguments for steady work in the Cleveland Indians' outfield.

Tuesday night, the sulking slugger changed his thinking and came up with the best argument of all — a three-run homer in the 10th inning that gave the Indians a 4-1 victory over Washington.

"I was thinking, 'Just let me get a base hit,'" the 33-year-old veteran said. "I had no idea of hitting a home run."

Colavito had other ideas — all negative — about sharing left field with Leon Wagner when he jotted down a statement of grievances last Monday and handed it to Cleveland newsmen.

"I'm tired of platooning and I waited a long time before saying anything," he wrote. "I'm not a trouble maker, never was and never will be, but I feel I must speak out now and say what's inside me."

He got his point across with a word against the Senators, slamming a shot into the left field seats off right-hander Bob Priddy in the 10th.

Elsewhere in the American League, the Chicago White Sox edged Minnesota 5-4 and moved into first place, one-half game ahead of the Detroit Tigers, who bowed to Boston 5-2, Baltimore nipped New York 1-0 and California topped Kansas City 5-1.

Los Angeles blanked the New York Mets 7-0, Atlanta slugged St. Louis 9-6, Houston whipped Pittsburgh 8-3 and San Francisco shaded Philadelphia 5-4 in 11 innings in National League play.

Cincinnati and Chicago were rained out.

Colavito, who played right field for the Indians — with Wagner in left — rapped a single in addition to his second homer, raising his batting mark to .272 in 21 games.

Cleveland starter Gary Bell, given a 1-0 lead when Larry Brown homered in the fifth, pitched 6 2-3 hitless innings and had a two-hit shutout until pinch hitter Cap Peterson slammed a one-out homer in the ninth.

Colavito snapped the deadlock after Priddy walked Chico Salomon and Chuck Hinton in the 10th.

Ron Hansen's three-run homer keyed a four-run rally in the sixth that lifted the White Sox past Minnesota, ending the Twins' winning string at four.

Pete Ward also homered for the White Sox, who had lost three in a row, while Harmon Killebrew and Cesar Tovar connected for Minnesota.

Left-hander Dennis Bennett, with relief help from John Wyatt, checked the Tigers while Carl Yastrzemski's two-run homer and a bases-empty blast by Rico Petrocelli provided Boston's winning margin. Al Kaline's 10th homer knocked out Bennett in the eighth.

The Orioles shut out the Yankees for the second night in a row as Frank Bertina and Ed Watt collaborated on a four-hitter. Dave Johnson lashed a triple off Mel Stottlemyre in the second inning and scored the game's only run on a single by Andy Etchebarren.

California spotted the A's a 1-0 lead when Jack Sanford batted a run across in the second inning, then surged ahead in the sixth on Jim Fregosi's solo homer and Jimmie Hall's two-run wallop. Jay Johnstone stole home to climax a two-run insurance rally in the seventh.

Seven Race Horses Die in Barn Fire

CHICAGO (AP) — Seven

thoroughbreds, including a daughter of famed Round Table, were killed Tuesday in a fire which destroyed a barn at the Arlington Park race track.

Damage estimates ranged from $40,000 to $50,000 as fire departments from three communities prevented the blaze from spreading by watering down other barns.

Brisk winds fanned the blaze as thousands of racing fans, arriving for the day's program, watched.

Among the horses killed was Round and Royal, a daughter of Round Table, owned by Mrs. William MacDonald of Hollywood, Fla. Two other horses owned by Mrs. MacDonald — Hill Empress and Double Too — also perished.

Melmon Stable of New Orleans had 13 horses in the barn but all were among those cut loose and shooed to safety.

Trotters Sold for $3 Million

CHICAGO (AP) — The Harlem

Globetrotters were sold Tuesday for a reported $3 million to Metromedia, Inc., subject to approval of the Probate Court.

Sale of the clowns of basketball, who 40 years ago under the guidance of the late Abe

Saperstein, rose from a road show into an international legend, remained in doubt.

Although Metromedia, which owns radio and television stations throughout the country in addition to the Ice Capades and direct mail companies, announced the purchase, there remained some question over completion of the transaction.

A rich Chicago syndicate described the Metromedia anouncement as premature and a spokesman for the group said he retained confidence that his group's bid would be favored

when the Probate Court settles

the estate.

Air Conditioning Hikes Efficiency, Cuts Fatigue

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

About now, many persons are checking their air-conditioners to make sure they are in working order.

It is estimated that at least 17 per cent of all American homes now have one or more conditioning units. Air conditioning in a primitive form was used 500 years ago by the Indians who hung wet blankets in their breezeways to cool the temperature in their sleeping quarters. Long before air-conditioning units were used in homes they were used to stabilize the temperature and moisture in such industries as textile, candy and paper manufacturing.

Important as it is to cool and dehumidify the air in hot weather, it is essential that an air-conditioner permit adjustment of the temperature, fan speed and direction of air flow to prevent blowing directly on persons in the room.

In addition to the comfort provided by the cooling unit, the air filter keeps out soot, dust, pollen and germs. Furthermore it has been found to increase the efficiency of workers in offices and factories. It is a distinct boon to persons with asthma and heart disease. It also helps prevent heat rashes and overfatigue due to loss of sleep.

About the only disadvantage to air conditioning is that it sometimes aggravates hay fever. The victims of this disease when exposed to air conditioning may show an increased tendency to develop respiratory infections.

THE BORN LOSER

The world's greatest racoon hunter explained his success by saying that he tried to think like a racoon. The world's best defensive players frequently try to think like declarers as they plan their defense.

West wasn't the world's greatest defender. If he were, he probably would have opened his ace of clubs. Instead, West selected the doubtful lead of his singleton spade. Sometimes a singleton trump lead picks up partner's three to the queen. This time it did no harm.

South looked over dummy and saw that he would make his slam if he could discard his queen of hearts on dummy's fourth diamond or could finesse successfully in hearts. He also saw a chance for a possible swindle that wouldn't cost him either of his legitimate chances.

He played two rounds of trumps and went after diamonds. When the diamonds failed to break, he ruffed dummy's last diamond and was ready for the swindle. He played his queen of clubs!

West won with the ace and took the bait, hook, line and sinker. It was obvious to West that South wanted a ruff and a discard. West led a heart. South said, "Thank you," and spread his hand.

If West had thought like a declarer, or even thought at all, he would have counted South as holding six spades, three diamonds and four other cards. If the queen were his only club, then a ruff and discard would do him no good, since he would be holding three hearts. He could discard a heart from either hand and still have a losing heart left.

NFL Likely to Go With 16 Teams

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — When the new wide world of professional football dawned in 1970 the old established National Football League may continue to operate with 16 teams and the American Football League with 10 teams and no major realignment.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle, who revealed Tuesday that a decision on admission of Cincinnati as the 10th member of the AFL in 1968 had been delayed temporarily, hinted that it was possible that the two leagues would not be realigned.

"We are committed, under the terms of the merger," said Rozelle, who acts as commissioner of both leagues, "to play inter-league games in 1970. That does not necessarily mean a realignment and joint standings."

"Perhaps it could be a 16-club NFL with four four-club divisions (as at present) and a 10-club AFL with two five-club divisions with some games between the two leagues. We definitely will have a 10th team in the AFL by 1968."

The future structure of pro football from an administrative viewpoint has been examined by a management consultant firm which made recommendations to the two leagues Tuesday. No firm decisions have been made.

Eventually, it must be decided whether the NFL will have its own president, now that Rozelle is head of both leagues, and what his duties should be. The AFL has a president in Milt Woodard.

Cincinnati's entry into the AFL had been expected momentarily but there was a delay to permit the AFL owners to examine all aspects of the situation from the viewpoint of prospective owners and stadium facilities.

Princess Contestant

CLARA GLENDORA HUGHES

A contestant in the Southwest Arkansas District Poultry Princess contest to be held in Hope on Saturday, June 10, is Clara Glendora Hughes, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fay J. Hughes of Malvern.

Glendora is a graduate of Malvern High School and attends Henderson State Teachers College.

She is 5'5" tall, weighs 116 pounds, has blonde hair and green eyes and measures 35-23-35.

Her hobbies are piano, painting, scuba-diving, sewing, and horseback riding. She plans to continue her education and teach English in high school.

Hague Bats Travelers to Victory

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas first baseman Joe Hague drove in five runs as the Travelers defeated Austin, 10-7, Tuesday night.

Hague hit a three-run homer in the third for a 3-1 lead and a two-run homer in the fifth to narrow the Braves' lead to 7-5. Hague hit into a bases loaded double play in the sixth but the tying run scored from third on the play.

The Travs scored five runs in the sixth to sew up the game. Tommy Smith homered after Biff Bracy's single to put the Travelers ahead to stay.

Jerry Robertson, the third of five Arkansas pitchers, got credit for the victory.

Austin scored six runs in the fourth on six singles and a three-run homer by Adrian Carritt.

Albuquerque's Dodgers got home run power from Jim Spencer and Larry Stubing as they defeated El Paso, 7-4, at El Paso. Both Spencer and Stubing hit two-run homers.

Dallas - Fort Worth pushed across four runs in the sixth and edged Amarillo, 4-3, at Arlington, Tex. Amarillo got a runner as far as third base with two out in the ninth but couldn't bring him home.

Famed 7th May Go to 8th

NEW YORK (AP) — The famed Belmont Stakes, usually known to horse players as the seventh at New York, may be run as the eighth race on the June 3 card at Aqueduct.

Post time for the last event in the Triple Crown classics for 3-year-olds has been set for 8:30 p.m. EDT. Aqueduct officials said Tuesday no definite decision has yet been made, but that there was a possibility of the Belmont being made the eighth race of the day.

Orders Boys Schools to Desegregate

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The U.S. Court of Appeals at St. Louis has ordered the desegregation of schools for the training of delinquent and neglected boys in Arkansas.

The ruling Tuesday eliminated Arkansas laws providing for assignment of Negro youths to the Boys Training School at Wrightsville and white boys to the Boys Training School at Pine Bluff.

The board of managers of the schools was ordered to prepare a plan for desegregation of the facilities for presentation to U.S. district court for approval.

The appellate court upheld a ruling by U.S. Dist. Judge Oren Harris, who had overruled a motion by the schools' board of managers to dismiss a suit filed by Mrs. Mona Mae George of Gould, Ark., in behalf of her son.

The suit contended that the commitment of 13-year-old Roy Lee Lewis, and other Negro youths, to Wrightsville on the basis of race was unconstitutional.

They Finally Remembered the Feathers

By BOB HORTON
WASHINGTON (AP) — Somebody remembered those tons of feathers bought to stuff bedding for troops in Korea. So now the old duck down is being plucked for duty in the Vietnam era.

The Pentagon announced the other day a $320,000 contract for 800,000 pounds — that's 40 tons — of "waterfowl feathers to be serviced."

Serviced? That means, the Pentagon said, that the feathers are being removed from stockpiles to be processed for use in pillows and sleeping bags.

Stockpiles? The General Services Administration, a spokesman explained, piled up millions of pounds of feathers and down years ago, possibly back during World War II, as a contingency stock.

He didn't explain why but presumably this was a safeguard against a duck deficit.

Now 800,000 pounds of feathers are being withdrawn from GSA stocks by the Pentagon to be "dusted, washed and fracted before stuffing."

Fractionated? That's a sort of toss-and-tumble process which softens up the feathers.

Last June the Pentagon pulled out of GSA piles more than 2.5 million pounds of feathers and nearly 500,000 pounds of down.

The Veterans Administration and the Public Health Service also use large quantities for bedding.

In a public auction in June 1964 the GSA sold off more than 700,000 pounds to private bidders.

GSA figures indicate the government has had as much as 10 million pounds of feathers and down lying around.

As with bombs and missiles the government doesn't like to talk about where they're stashed. Locations of the warehouses are classified information. A GSA spokesman did say a couple of storage areas are in Summerville, N.J., and Mechanicsburg, Pa.

Under current policy, the GSA says, feather-and-down levels will be lowered to three million pounds.

After that it's every duck for himself.

William Thornton won a $500 prize for his architectural design of the national Capitol in 1792.

No Visitors for Political Prisoners

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
ATHENS (AP) — A visiting delegation of the Socialist International was rebuffed again today in its efforts to visit more than 6,000 political prisoners of Greece's military regime on the island of Yfouira.

Foreign Minister Paul Economou-Couras told Bruno Pitterman of Austria, leader of the four-man delegation, that his ministry had no authority to give permission for the visit.

Pitterman, who is also head of the Socialist International, said he hoped the delegation would be received by Col. George Papadopoulos, minister to the prime minister's office and widely regarded as the strong man of the military junta.

The Socialist delegation arrived Monday to seek release of those rounded up in the coup. The minister of public order said they would not be allowed to go to the prison island. Monday night he announced that about 3,500 of the prisoners would be freed within 10 days.

SHARON ANN EDWARDS

Another Poultry Princess contestant is Sharon Ann Edwards, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Edwards of Magnolia. A graduate of Magnolia High School, Sharon attends Southern State College. She is 5'3" tall, weighs 110 pounds, has dark brown hair and brown eyes and measures 35-23-35.

Her hobbies are organ, tennis, piano and she plans to finish college and begin working as a medical technologist.

The Poultry Princess contest will be held in Hammons Stadium on Saturday night, June 10.

Controversy Over the TV Commercials

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A judge says a television broadcaster has the right to interrupt motion pictures with commercials. But so far as movie director George Stevens is concerned, the controversy has not ended.

"The television viewer is entitled to the full benefit of the skills of the picture-maker. The TV watcher should not be a second-class citizen, relegated to watching a second-class product," Stevens said after Tuesday's decision.

He said he would appeal and looked "forward to the appellate court's recognition that television may not cut and butcher films as, unhappily, has been the practice in the past."

Stevens had asked $2 million in damages from the National Broadcasting Co. and Paramount Pictures Corp. on charges that his film "A Place in the Sun" was distorted and emasculated by nine interruptions totaling 18 minutes for 33 commercials during a TV showing March 12, 1966, by NBC.

Superior Court Judge Ben Koenig rejected the plea for damages and refused to grant Stevens' petition for an injunction against further TV releases of the film, a 1952 Academy Award winner that starred Elizabeth Taylor and Montgomery Clift.

The ruling specified that although commercials are permissible, television broadcasters may not alter the dramatic quality of pictures.

Stevens expressed pleasure at this portion of the ruling. "This should reinforce the Directors Guild of America's complaints against the commercial butchering of films," he said.

"We have protested this practice for several years with, unfortunately, little success. I believe the guild will be able to go forward along this line with added vigor as a result of this decision."

In the recent trial of the case Judge Koenig viewed the picture three times — as a theater audience would see it, as TV viewers might see it without commercials and as viewers saw it in March last year.

He decided the interruptions did not substantially damage the picture. But he warned that future showings might subject broadcasters to other demands for damages if the dramatic quality and artistic worth were materially altered.

Stevens was awarded a $1 token judgment because 10.5 seconds of his film had been cut in the editing for television.

Bubbles Have to Go But Just Where?

By JEAN HELLER
NEW YORK (AP) — When sculptor Les Levine creates a new work of art, he also creates a problem. Like where to put it. Take, for instance, the 1,600-square-foot sea of plastic bubbles Levine blew into the Museum of Modern Art. It took practically an entire outdoor terrace to set it up. And it was a big terrace.

Now the exhibit is over and the bubbles have to go.

But where?
One just doesn't set up 1,600-square feet of plastic bubbles in a living-room corner. Since they're seven feet high, they don't hang easily from a studio wall.

Luckily, Levine got a one-man show at the Walker Art Center in Minneapolis so he doesn't have to worry about where to put his bubbles until that's over.

The bubbles are being shipped by truck.

"What I'd really like to do is sell the work," the 31-year-old sculptor said. "But it might take some time because I'm asking $22,000 and there aren't a lot of people with that much money to spend or any place to put this."

"I'm not worried though. I'll just keep finding places to exhibit it until I find someone to buy it."

Levine said he'd like to sell the piece to a large corporation to pep up the lobby of a big building.

"A very big building," he added.

The sculpture consists of 16 half bubbles made of acrylic plastic donated to the artist for his work by the American Cy-

Convicts Tell Their Stories

Four Arkansas penitentiary convicts unfolded a life of crime, running with the wrong crowd, taking a drink, stealing, robbery that led from juvenile delinquency to convictions on felony charges.

At the age of 17, Mr. B was under contract with the Chicago White Sox and a promising baseball future, but that came to an abrupt halt when he admitted seven robberies in a week's time and drew 21 years in the state prison. Mr. D was once a high school track and football star, with several offers of scholarships to play college football. . . "but at 17 I was headstrong, I stole a car, wrecked it, got caught and was sentenced to four years". After his release, Mr. D said he took up hot-check writing, stole some more automobiles and is now paying the penalty. "I got smart too late", he lamented.

The other two convicts told of similar experiences. Captain Knight of the prison staff appeared with the group. The program was arranged by Kiwanian Bob Moers.

They are known as the "In-mate Panel" and have appeared before audiences estimated at more than 250,000 persons including high schools, churches, civic clubs and other organizations.

Three of the convicts are natives of Arkansas, the fourth from Texas, and they were introduced as Mr. A, Mr. B, Mr. C, and Mr. D. They appeared before the microphone in that order.

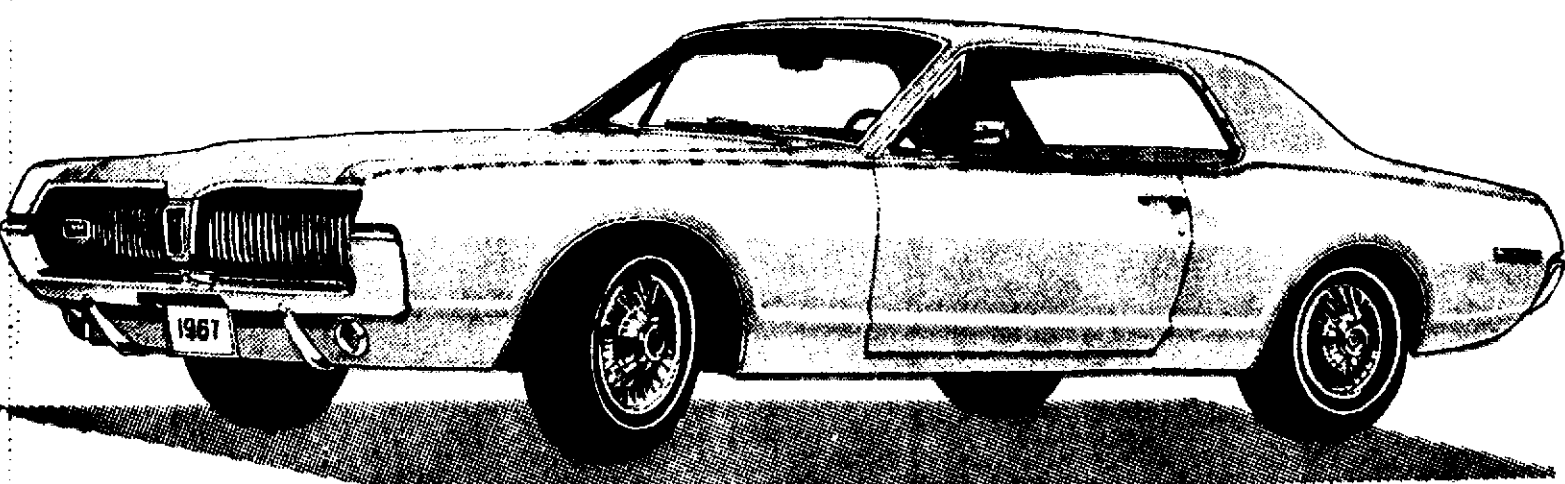

None could pinpoint the exact time they felt they were "criminals," but it started as teenagers. A factory super-heated the 16 sheets of plastic and blew them out with air to fit Levine's specifications.

Walking through the bubbles is a physical rather than visual experience. The viewer tends to lose his sense of distance and proportion.

Crisis Brings Unity From LBJ Critics

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional supporters and critics of President Johnson's Asian policies have forged rare unity in proposing United Nations action to avert war in the Middle East.

Sens. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., and Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., proposed establishing a U.N. naval force to keep open the ship lanes to Israel that Egypt has threatened to blockade in the Gulf of Aqaba.

Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., like the Kennedys a critic of Johnson's Vietnam policies, plugged for a U.N. Security Council debate on the Middle East. He said it could lead to some opening by which the council might take jurisdiction in efforts to get Vietnam peace talks.

In the House, Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford said Johnson should "take immediate steps to re-establish a United Nations presence in this supercharged situation and to restrain all parties from any premature action that could kindle a conflagration, whether small or large."

The U.N. Security Council was to meet today. Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., released a statement he said carried the signatures of 96 House members calling on firm and vigorous U.S. action to prevent a Middle East war.

The statement said the Soviet Union is arming Egypt and Syria and "appears to be testing American resolve to defend the peace."

Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R-Iowa, a Senate Foreign Relations Committee member who has supported Johnson's Vietnam war course, called in an interview for cooperative action in the United Nations, despite his feeling the Soviets do not want peace.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., who also has supported the Vietnam war objectives, proposed that U.N. peacekeeping forces withdrawn at Egypt's demand be returned and stationed in a buffer zone on Israel's soil.

Hope Visitors and Report on Next Color

The Star had three pressroom visitors yesterday afternoon. They phoned me about 1:30, learned that press time was at 2, said they were in McAlester, Okla., and couldn't get here in time to see the machine running. I wasn't surprised, for McAlester is all of 200 miles away.

But I was surprised when they showed up within an hour. The tip-off was the taxi in which they drove up to the office. They had come in with a Cessna.

Our visitors were Richard R. Johnson, president and general manager of the daily McAlester News-Capital; Dow Dozier, the newspaper's advertising manager; and Paul Wollschlaeger of Wichita, Kan., sales engineer for Fairchild Graphic Equipment, manufacturers of our five-unit rotary offset press.

The McAlester organization is preparing to switch from old letterpress to modern offset printing and came in to look over our press—which is the heart of the offset system. Hope Star's 1965 conversion has made its shop a demonstration place for a score of visiting publishers the last year and a half.

We had a process color run scheduled for this Friday but it has been forced over into next week because of installation work on "extras" for the press. Experience has shown us the press needs agitators to keep the heavy process inks constantly stirred, so that color rendition will be more faithful and the heavy waste in newspaper reduced. Waste, which runs 5 to 7 percent on a black-and-white run, will run 25 to 35 percent on a color production—all because of uneven flow of color ink and the throwing away of perhaps one newsprint sheet out of every three.

The press has 10 ink fountains and we are equipping all of them with automatic agitators, a $5,000 job plus the cost of installation by Cox Bros. Foundry & Machine. Half the units are complete, and the job will be finished this week, after which color production will be resumed.

The color picture which we have ready for next week is an eight-column shot of Norfolk Lake, made from the overlook just east of the state-owned ferry on U.S. 62, about 12 miles east of Mountain Home. I got the picture in August 1965 when L. Carter Johnson and I were coming home from our White River fishing float.

The Norfolk picture is another of the tough experiments we are conducting to discover the range and capability of the Berkeley 8x10 color separator. This operation blew up a 35mm. Kodachrome "frame," an inch by inch-and-a-half wide, to a width of 20 inches, trimmed back to our eight-column width, 15½ inches. Actually, the big color separator will enlarge a 35mm. frame to a width of 30 inches—or two pages—a fantastic range.

You'll see what we're talking about next week.

Ford Defends Quile School Amendment

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Persons who believe Arkansas would receive less federal school aid if the Quile amendment is passed are laboring under a misconception according to state Education Commissioner A. W. Ford.

Ford said Tuesday states would receive as much federal aid under the amendment as they do under the present law but would have more control over the money.

The amendment to the federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act is opposed by President Johnson.

Opponents of the amendment claim Arkansas would get about $27 million less in school federal aid in 1969 under the amendment. Ford called their claims "myths." He said the increase in the amendment's critics talk about is predicated upon a formula which the administration has delayed for two years.

Cuba Reports U.S. Officer Has Defected

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Radio Havana said today the Cuban government has granted asylum to U.S. Army Maj. Richard Harwood Pearce, a Vietnam hero cleared to top-secret material who said he left American "for conscience reasons."

With Pearce in Havana was his 5-year-old son, Richard Jr. Pearce, 36, was ranking aide to the 4th Army commandant, Lt. Gen. Thomas W. Dunn, at headquarters in Ft. Sam Houston, San Antonio, Tex. Pearce was on a 13-day leave from the fort.

The broadcast said Pearce sent a message to the revolutionary government. In the message Pearce said: "I decided to leave my country for conscience reasons."

In a broadcast monitored at 5:33 a.m. in Miami a newscaster said Pearce arrived at Libertad Airport near Havana Sunday in the small red and white Cessna he bought a week ago in Houston.

In Washington, State Department press officer Carl Bartsch said the U.S. government was informed Tuesday that Pearce had been granted asylum. The information came from the Cuban government through the Swiss ambassador in Washington, Bartsch said.

The United States does not have diplomatic relations with Cuba.

Bartsch said the question of possible legal action against Pearce would have to be left open. But he added the case is "different than a civilian case" because of Pearce's Army status.

Bartsch said he had no official comment on the incident.

The possibility of a defection to the Communists was first reported by the Coast Guard Monday morning. The State Department had asked the Swiss Embassy in Havana to check the reports but the Swiss said then Havana did not acknowledge Pearce's presence.

The Coast Guard, which launched a massive air search for the Pearce plane, said, "We have no comment. The search will continue until we are ordered to stop."

The government-controlled radio announced the official communiqué: "The revolutionary government decided to concede asylum to the major of the United States Army, Richard Harwood Pearce, or the facilities appropriate to go to another country."

Jones' Action Could Ruin State Board

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — If the state Senate does not confirm the "present members" of the state Cosmetology Board, then the Board will have to ease its operation July 1, the attorney general's office ruled Tuesday.

The ruling said the Board can not legally spend any of its appropriations during the next two years unless the board members are confirmed in view of an amendment placed on the appropriation bill during the final days of the 1967 Legislature.

The amendment, by Sen. Guy H. (Mutt) Jones of Conway, makes it necessary for the board members to be confirmed. None of the six members of the Board have been confirmed.

Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller would have to call a special legislative session in order for the senate to approve the board members.

Unless the board continues to operate, beauty schools and shops in the state would apparently shut down.

Jones said he added the amendment because he said Republicans were trying to take control of the Board. Jones' wife is a member of the Board.

Four of the six members were appointed by former Gov. Orval E. Faubus, the other two by Rockefeller.

Middle East Poses New Test in U.S., Russian Relations

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

As Middle East leaders, possibly in spite of themselves, push the threat of war close to the point of no return, a new test of U.S.-Soviet relations is in prospect.

Both the Russians and the Americans seem to be acting with notable caution in this new test of a long succession of Arab-Israeli uprisings, suggesting neither welcomes the idea of war in the sensitive area.

Neither the Soviet government's pledge of support to the Arab nor President Johnson's statement that Egyptian blockade of the Gulf of Arabia is "illegal and potentially dangerous" changed matters in that respect. Both the Russians and the Americans have commitments in the Middle East which they consider important to their national interests. Moscow and Washington had to react to events.

But Soviet press treatment of the gathering clouds seemed to reflect much Kremlin worry. Another full-blown breakdown in the Middle East could open the door to a return to the deep freeze of the cold war.

Most Soviet press accounts of the crisis were brief, with little comment, until lately. Then the treatment indicated a concern that here was a situation from which it would be difficult to back away.

Pravda on Monday connected the crisis with Vietnam. It claimed the United States was behind the uproar to deflect attention from its penetration of the demilitarized zone there and its bombing of Hanoi. It suggested the American aim was to put "progressive" — meaning pro-Soviet — regimes in the Arab East.

Pravda noted the presence of the U.S. 7th Fleet in the Mediterranean in a way suggesting a warning against repetition of 1958, when the fleet landed U.S. Marines in Lebanon at the height of a crisis there.

War in the Middle East could be much more worrisome to Moscow than the conflict in North Vietnam. The Middle East is next door to the U.S.S.R.

Gaming Charges Dismissed

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Municipal Judge Earl Mendenhall Tuesday again dismissed charges of displaying a gambling device lodged against a Hot Springs resident.

Wilbur Smith was arrested by Garland County officers in a raid on the Purtyan Saturday night.

Mendenhall said that the law was a private club, the three slot machines taken in the raid "were not on display" and that a warrant was not secured to enter the establishment.

The slots were in a "back room" not open to the public, Mendenhall said. He ordered the machines destroyed unless Smith can show why they shouldn't be.

Officer Is Killed at Osceola

OSCEOLA, Ark. (AP) — An auxiliary policeman from Blytheville was killed and four other persons were wounded late Tuesday night in a four-hour gun battle here.

Osceola Police Chief Ray Rigby said Gordon McFall, 39, was killed by a shotgun blast after about 15 police officers had exchanged shots with Lee Wilson, 65, who stayed holed up in a house with a shotgun, a rifle, a pistol and foot locker of ammunition.

Wilson was wounded critically.

Rigby said officers answered a complaint about 8 p.m. that Wilson had been threatening neighbors with a gun. He said efforts to persuade Wilson to come out of the house failed and that Wilson opened fire.

Year gas grenades were lobbed into the house, but Rigby said they apparently did no good. Rigby said Wilson's brother and sister tried to talk him into leaving the house but their efforts also failed.

State Police, an auxiliary force from Blytheville and sheriff's deputies were called in.

Rigby said after about four hours of exchanging fire and tossing tear gas into the house, Wilson bolted out the front door and started running down an alley where he was shot.

Wilson, who was alone in the house, was reported in critical condition at a Memphis hospital.

Also wounded were Robbie Cox, 35, a police detective from Blytheville, deputy sheriff Mike Pope, 60, and Osceola policeman Billy Crafton, 29. Crafton was reported in serious condition at a Memphis hospital.

The others were not believed seriously wounded.

Negro Group Says Appeal of WR Slips

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Leadership Round Table, a Negro group which supported Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller in 1966, said Tuesday that Rockefeller's appeal to the Negro leaders is slipping.

T. E. Patterson, secretary of the organization, said "No Negro group, organized or unorganized, has gained as much audience with Governor Rockefeller as its own request."

"We feel that the governor has no contact with Negroes," Patterson said. "He is floating around in outer space."

The Round Table released a statement with copies of two letters to Rockefeller and a list of the names of 23 Negroes in Arkansas in the group.

A spokesman for the governor's office said that most of the Negroes on the list had been granted audiences with the governor as members of other groups or as individuals.

It is generally accepted that the Negro vote swung the 1966 election to Rockefeller.

UN Council Called Into Conference

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
Associated Press Writer

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union objected today to the calling of an urgent session of the U.N. Security Council to deal with the threat of war between the Arab nations and Israel.

Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko told the council, shortly after it convened at 11:54 a.m., that a hasty meeting of the council had been called by some Western powers with the view of creating "an artificially dramatic climate."

"One fact is quite symptomatic," he said. "A careful effort has been made to see to it that two NATO countries, which are far from being close neighbors to the Near East, and not any of the parties directly concerned, took the initiative of this urgent convening of the Security Council."

Fedorenko added: "Is there not more of a concealed desire here to interfere in the affairs of someone else rather than true concern for the peace and security of the Near East?"

Liu called the council meeting at the request of Canada and Denmark.

Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson told the Canadian House of Commons that his government is seeking some form of U.N. intervention to replace the U.N. Middle East force now being withdrawn from the Egyptian-Israeli border area on the demand of Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Pearson said Canada is suggesting expansion of the U.N. Truce Supervisory Organization in Jerusalem and the shifting of some of its personnel to the Egyptian-Israeli border.

Canada's Foreign Minister Paul Martin said he had suggested to U.N. Secretary-General U Thant that the U.N. Middle East force be reconstituted in some form.

Meanwhile, Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban left Jerusalem on a sudden trip to Washington and New York. Foreign Ministry officials said he probably would take part in the Security Council debate, at least in its early stage.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg urged the council to give "speedy support" to Thant's mission to Cairo for talks with Nasser.

The U.S. delegate said the council should ask its members to take "every possible step to avert the possibility of an armed conflict." He also urged the council to ensure "that no member of the U.N. should take any action which would imperil the success of the secretary-general's mission."

In their request for a special meeting, the Danish and Canadian delegates cited Thant's weekend report to the council that he was withdrawing the U.N. Middle East force at Egypt's mandatory request and that he considered the resultant situation "more menacing than at any time" since the 1956 Suez war.

"Since the secretary-general's report was issued," the two delegates wrote, "developments have taken place which have caused the situation to deteriorate further."

WR Asks for Resignations

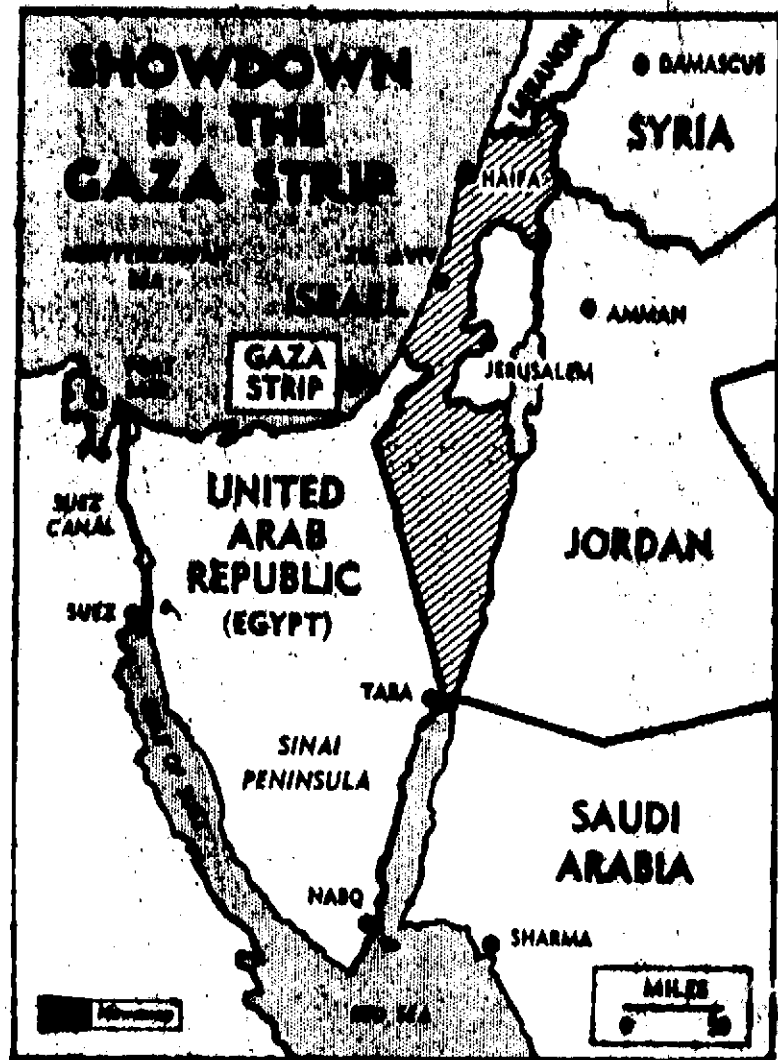

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said Tuesday that unless he received more resignations from members of boards and commissions he would begin to ask for the resignations.

Rockefeller said that previously he and commission members tendered their resignations to incoming governors on principle but that this hadn't happened enough as far as he was concerned.

"We may begin making public by names and the reasons for the resignation requests," Rockefeller said. He said some of the boards and commissions deliberately frustrated his programs.

Rockefeller said the public expected changes and wanted him to clean house.

Egypt Reportedly Is Mining Gulf to Halt Shipping to Israel

Arab-Israeli borders have been scenes of tension almost continually since the tiny republic was founded in 1947. The current confrontation is blamed by Israelis on Syrian terrorist attacks across the border, and by Arabs on Israeli threats of retaliatory invasion. But attention seems to have shifted from the Syrian-Israeli border to the Gaza Strip, as the United Arab Republic rushes troops there to assume the role of leader in opposition to the Jews.

Planes End Truce With Dawn Raids

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
BAIGON (AP) — American warplanes today ended the 24-hour truce for Buddha's birthday with raids deep into the heartland of North Vietnam.

The bombing resumed shortly after the truce ended at midnight Tuesday and by dawn U.S. jets were over North Vietnam in strength. Among the targets was the often-blit rail yard at Thai Nguyen, 37 miles north of the Red capital of Hanoi.

The rail yard serves a vital power plant and North Vietnam's steel mill and is at the northern end of Red defenses anchored on Hanoi and Haiphong.

Other targets were hit in the Red River delta, a spokesman said, and the supply line stretching south toward the border with South Vietnam was also raked by Air Force and Navy planes.

The Little Rock Conference of Methodist Churches, now in session at Hot Springs, voted yesterday to name Washington Methodist Church in Hempstead County a Methodist landmark, a step toward having the General Conference declare it a Methodist Shrine.

Mrs. Thelma Gist of the Revenue office announces that applications are being taken for three temporary jobs in the office during the month of July. . . . Gov. Rockefeller has directed local offices to employ college students in these jobs, preferably those entering their third and fourth years. . . . all applicants must be 18 and older and the job pays $8 a day and last during July. . . . deadline is June 1, if interested contact the Revenue Office at the Hempstead Courthouse.

At the Methodist Conference Monday night Miss Judy Wood, rural worker now serving the Hope District, was commissioned a deaconess.

Lumber Group Names Dicks

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Devere Dicks Jr., of Hot Springs, Ark., was elected President of the Southern Pine Association here Tuesday during the final session of its 34th annual convention.

He succeeds Harley Langhale Jr., Valdosta, Ga., who was named Chairman of the Board of Directors.

City Purchases a Paving Machine

Hope city directors last night spent considerable time looking to street equipment and then voted to purchase a $14,241 slurry machine.

This is a new vehicle used for the laying of asphalt. Action was deferred on the purchase of an excavating machine to permit the street department heads and City Manager Mendenhall to further study the matter.

Cost estimate figures for the paving of main arteries and thoroughfares were not available as Engineer John Hixson had requested additional time to prepare the cost.

Two hours before Johnson spoke, the Soviet government lined up with the Arab states in a statement warning that "aggression" in the Middle East "would encounter not only the united strength of the Arab countries, but also resolute resistance on the part of the Soviet Union."

The latest confrontation developed after Israel threatened military reprisal for Arab commando raids from Syria. Syria and Egypt massed their forces on Israel's borders and Israel deployed its troops in response.

Informants in Cairo said more than 100,000 Egyptian troops are mobilized in the Sinai Desert, on Israel's southwest frontier, where the 3,400-man U.N. peace force had patrolled until Thant pulled it out at Nasser's demand.

At U. N. headquarters in New York, the Soviet Union and the Arab states in a statement warning that "aggression" in the Middle East "would encounter not only the united strength of the Arab countries, but also resolute resistance on the part of the Soviet Union."
